Teachers' change

Change in perspective of education. ♪

Listening each student, I started to perceive it not as 'chitchat' but as a story of an individual human being. As I interacted with them, my eyes opened to what is truly important. ♪

—Teacher of 10 years, 2 years of lesson change— ♪

It has changed the way I look at students.

I feel that I've started interacting with them with respect. It has increased my self-esteem as an autonomous teacher to design my lessons.

It has become a daily routine to discuss lesson subjects with fellow teachers, and this communication has made me more appreciative of work at school. ♪
